I've been making muffled screaming noises for about twenty-five minutes now

WTAF IS WRONG WITH THEM

THEY MUST HAVE KNOWN THEY DID THAT SHIT TO ME!!!

No wonder they gave me that "extreme condition leave" to move out

Apple is the extreme condition

Linking to helpful page about the acute hazards in silicon fab plants

You've mostly only heard from me about the dangers of what these plants left behind in the US after they were moved to Asia

You can get every type of sick from them

You guys - look at this rooftop *

I'm learning one of the ways to figure out what kind of toxic shit corporations are doing in Silicon Valley, you gotta look at their rooftops & "mechanical yards"

Apple is truly unbelievable 🤖🔥

Just by rooftop appearance alone, this building definitely seems like something appropriate to have immediately next to a large apartment complex

Oh yeah & then also the stock piles of chemicals & gases, & the 1970s silicon fab, & solvent/gas exhaust systems

Great job, Apple

In 2022, I posted a video with video-blog clips I captured real-time in Sept 2020, documenting the industrial chemical exposure at my apartment. I did not discover it was Apple's semiconductor fabrication exhaust until Feb 2023, well after I posted it.

I just received Public Records results on the 3250 building permits & its a doozy

Apple registered the building in 2015 for haz waste storage & generation

Looks like Apple started renovating the building in 2014 with:

- clean rooms
- burn in rooms
- 6,000 gallon hydrogen tank

CLARA. The local station is 09. The general description of this property is laboratory or science lababoratory. Other special haz mat actions were also taken. No mutual/automatic aid was given or received.

Alarm number 1904285 has been assigned to this incident.

E99 and H99 responded to a gas leak at . E99 and H99 arrived on scene and found nothing showing and an evacuation in progress. ERT was on scene and they stated that they had been purging their lines but did not put their system in test. The alarm was for .5 parts per billion that was going through their scrubbers. The chemicals were Silane and Phosephine. This release was a normal process for them, and there were no further actions needed by Fire or Hazmat.

E99 cleared.

Welcome to the City of Santa Clara's "Smart Permit" SEARCH providing businesses and citizens with permit information online. You can check the status of a current permit or check the permit history for an address or parcel.

SMART PERMIT SEARCH

Smart Permit Search

Using the Smart Permit SEARCH

Look up permit or parcel information and see an on line report on current or historical permits. You can look up the desired permit information by entering the case number (if known) or by entering the address or parcel number. Once you have entered the case number or address, click on the "Lookup Information" button and the permit information will appear on the bottom portion of the web page. You may need to scroll down the page or adjust screen magnification to see the results. Click on the "Clear Search Values" button to begin a new search.

Supported Browsers

To ensure the best experience with Smart Permit, you will need to use one of the following web browsers:

Microsoft Internet Explorer version 10 and up

Google Chrome

Mozilla Firefox

Safari \(For Macs and iOS devices\)

If you would like to see the copies of original plans, please come to the Permit Center at 1500 Warburton Avenue for further instructions.

To apply for permits online, visit Online Permit and Inspection.

Get the latest information and findings from the Air District's emissions inventory of toxic air contaminants.

Toxic Air Contaminants

Certain air pollutants are classified as toxic air contaminants, or TACs, because they are known to cause or contribute to adverse health impacts. Adverse health impacts from exposure to toxic air contaminants may include temporary minor conditions, such as eye or skin irritation, permanent injury, or serious diseases including cancer. California's Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment identifies potential health impacts and develops toxicity information for toxic air contaminants.

Facility Toxic Emissions and Prioritization Tool

Each year, the Air District collects toxic air contaminant emissions data, or sufficient data to estimate TAC emissions, from permitted facilities. The Air District uses this information to ensure facilities comply with Air District rules and regulations and to determine whether further evaluation is warranted. The Facility Toxic Emissions and Prioritization Tool provides a way to easily view the latest year toxic air contaminant emissions and prioritization scores for all permitted facilities within the Bay Area.

Toxic Air Contaminant Special Reports and Emissions Inventories

The table below contains annual toxic air contaminant emission inventories and special reports that summarize and analyze toxic emissions, facility prioritization scores, health risk assessments, TAC air monitoring data and other relevant toxic control program information.

Tab 1: Release Notes

Release Notes:

(1) The toxic air contaminant (TAC) emission inventory presented in this document was reported to the California Air Resources Board. They are based on throughput data, emission and abatement factors, and calculation procedures stored in the Air District's computer database that were in effect during the reporting year.

(1a) The 'reporting year' means the most recent and reasonable 12-month period at the time the data was submitted to the Air District.

(2) The chronic trigger levels for TACs, as identified in Table 2-5-1 of Regulation 2, Rule 5, are the reporting thresholds for this Toxic Inventory. If any facility has a TAC emission that equals or exceeds the chronic trigger level for that TAC, the emission rate will be included in this report. The TAC emission will not be listed in this report, if the TAC emission is less than the chronic trigger level.

(3) Diesel engine exhaust particulate matter, or diesel PM, should be used as a surrogate for all TAC emissions from diesel-fueled internal combustion engines. Previous Air District Toxic Inventories have included both diesel PM and the specific TACs that are produced by internal combustion engines due to diesel oil combustion, such as: benzene, formaldehyde, arsenic, beryllium, cadmium, chromium (hexavalent), lead, manganese, mercury, and PAHs. The Air District is reporting only the diesel engine exhaust particulate matter for diesel-fueled internal combustion engines.
